New Skirt For 1866.

The Great Invention of the Age in HOOP SKIRTS.

J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION consists of DUPLEX (or two) ELLIPTIC PURE REFINED STEEL SPRINGS, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable SPRING ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Spring, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful Shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promonade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all Single Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps etc, etc, which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect Shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WEST BRADLEY & CARY, PROPRIETORS of the Invention, and SOLE MANUFACTURERS, 97 CHAMBERS, 79 & 81 READE STREETS New York.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

Late Papers.

LATE Richmond and New York, papers are kept for sale at the post-office.

Salisbury Dec. 11th 1865. tfd-169.

To the Citizens of North-Carolina.

The termination of a sanguinary contest, which for the past four years has presented an impassable barrier to all social or commercial intercourse between the two great sections of our country, having at length happily cleared away all obstacles to a removal of those relations which formerly bound us together in a fraternal union, I take the earliest opportunity afforded me by this auspicious event, to greet my Southern friends, and to solicit from them a renewal of that extensive business connection which for a quarter of a century has been uninterrupted save by the great public calamity to which I have adverted.

It is scarcely necessary, on the threshold of a business re-union, I should repeat the warning so often given to my friends,—to beware of all those spurious and deleterious compounds which, under the specious and false titles of Imported Wines, Brandies, Holland Gin, Liquors, &c., have been equally destructive to the health of our citizens as prejudicial to the interests of the legitimate Importer.

Many years of my past life have been expended in an open and candid attempt to expose these wholesale frauds; no time nor expense has been spared to accomplish this salutary purpose, and to place before my friends and the public generally, at the lowest possible market price, and in such quantities as might suit their convenience, a truly genuine imported article.

Twenty-five years' business transaction with the largest and most respectable exporting houses in France and Great Britian have afforded me unsurpassed facilities for supplying our home market with Wines, Liquors, and Liqmures of the best and most approved brands in Europe, in addition to my own distillery in Holland for the manufacture of the "Schiedam Schnapps."

The latter, so long tested and approved by the medical Faculties of the United States, West Indies and South America as an invaluable Therapeutic, a wholesome, plesaht, and perfectly safe beverage in all climates and during all seasons, quickly excited the cupidity of the home manufacturers and venders of a spurious article under the same name.

I trust that I have, after much toil and expense, surrounded all my importations with safeguards and directions which with ordinary circumspection will inshure their delivery, as I receive them from Europe, to all my customers.

I would however, recommend in all cases where it is possible, that orders be sent direct to my Depot. 22 Beaver Street, New York, or that purchases be made of my accredited agents.

In addition to a large stock of Wines, Brandies, &c. in wood, I have a considerable supply of old tried foreign wines, embracing vintages of many past years, bottled up before the commencement of the war, which I can especially recommended to all connaisseurs of these rare luxuries.

In conclusion, I wotld especially call the earley attention of my Southern customers to the advantage to be derived by transmitting their orders without loss of time, of time, or calling personally at the Depot, in order to inshure the fulfilment of their favors from the present large and well selected assortment.

EXPERIENCE PROVES LIKE THE STERN-LIGHT OF A SHIP.

Experience always teaches a sad, a bitter, and expensive lesson. Led astray by a subtle sophistry, wild fanaticism or deep-laid faith, experience as by a shock awakes us to the dread reality. It ruthlessly tears from assunder the gos-amer veil thrown around our cherished aspirations. Ought not we then to ponder well her teachings and profit by her admonitions? During the late canvass for Governor and members of Congress, it was apparent to every one who watched and weighed the signs of the times, that the Administration, if not the whole North, preferred the election of Governor Holden, and those candidates for seats in Congress who could comply with the requirements of the law as it stands. Not that men equally loyal now, were less to be trusted, but because the election of strait Union men would prove more acceptable just now; also because we would, in so doing, have expressed the sentiment that we had fully acquiesced in the policy of the Government; that we could trust even those who had given "no countenance" to the Southern movement; and conversely the North regarded the election of, as they term them, "prominent rebels" a covert, if not a direct insult to the government; it looked to them, to use the paradoxical cant of the day, rather healthy for us to transfer gentlemen from seats in the late Confederate Congress to seats in the Federal Congress, or to send there Generals who had but a few months since been leading their seried columns to battle against the armies of the Union; the truth is that they expect contribution in action if not in thought. The Southern people are emphatically the school-boys of the heart; they have romantic ideas, such as disliking to vote for men who were not with them in the late contest; this is the preux chevalier; he does not mean to do wrong, but to do right; his error is one of the head not of the heart; the North, in the full blaze of material prosperity, in her superior excellence in the arts and sciences as applied to commercial greatness, has become a thoroughly practical peoples; treats all such notions as the fossil remains of feudal barbarism or medieval romance—calls it Southern starch which must come out. We should take people, not as we should wish them in all things to be, but as we find them. Yet with all these facts staring our Legislature solons in the face, they elect as United States Senators two gentlemen, eminent for talent and private worth, neither one of whom, however can take the "test oath"—one having been C. S. Senator and still not pardoned, the other a Davis elector. This but shows that experience has to this body proved like the stern-light of a ship casting its beams only on the path already traversed. Congress will, in all probability, pass a bill for reorganizing the States lately at war, and we respectfully suggest that if they should give the "secesh" and "straits" a chance they will find that everything will be done up "brown" and in seort order. The "straits" always loved the Union, and the "secesh" having no favors to expect, are apt to be impartial.

Try them, you can't be worsted.

A BIT OF SACRED HISTORY.

After sojourning seven years in the land of the Philistines, the Shunamite woman returned to her country, "and she went forth to cry unto the King for her house and for her land. * * * * "So, the King appointed unto her a certain officer, saying: 'Restore all that was here, and all the fruits of the field since the day that she left the land, even until now.'" The application of this is so obvious, that it is not necessary to point it out to the well informed Christian, who is charged with the chief administration of Mr. Johnson's policy of restoring property in the South to its legitimate owners. The near approach of another year renders the prompt consideration of this question of vital interest to thousands who are awaiting the action of General Howard, and his staff officers, with such patience as they can best command. We hope the Chief of the Bureau will prove as vigorous and prompt in civil administration, as he did in military affairs. We have a large number of "Shunamites" in this region who join us in this aspiration.

North Carolina Legislature.

SENATE.

Saturday, December 9.

Prayer by the Rev. Henry Hardie of the Presbyterian Church.

The Senate concurred in the proposition of the House to go into the election of seven counsellors of State on Monday next at 12 o'clock.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Morehead as the teller on the part of the Senate to compare and count the vote for Governor.

Mr. Warren from the committee on the Judiciary, reported back adversely the resolution of Mr. Gash, concerning the establishment of a penitentiary.

Also adversely to the bill heretofore introduced by Mr. McCleese, to establish a homestead freehold.

Mr. Bynum from the same committee, submitted the following report, viz:

The majority of the committee on the Judiciary, to which was referred the joint resolution of this General Assembly touching the amendment to the Constitution of the United States ratrified at the present session, and known as the 13th article, having considered the same, beg leave to report:

The General Assembly has ratified the following amendment to the Constitution of the States, to wit:

"Sec. 1. Neither slavely or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction

Sec. II. Congress shall have power to enforce this Article by appropriate legislation."

It is clear that no after action of this body can change the legal effect of this amendment, or enlarge or restrict the powers of Congress, conferred either by the first or second section thereof. The subject has passed beyond the control of this body, and has become a matter of judicial interpretation only.

It is plain to this committee and to the people of North Carolina, and, as this committee believes, to every fair minded statesman or jurist, North or South, that this amendment confers no power on Congress to legislate upon the subject of freedmen within the States. While, however, the effect of this amendment is so plain to us, the majority of the committee cannot shut their eyes to contemporaneous history. The power to legislate within the States, founded on this amendment, is now claimed, in and out of Congress, by statesmen and lawyers eminent for their abilities and formidable for their numbers, zeal and influence.

The tribunal appointed by the constitution for its own interpretation, has not always proved a barrier to legislative encroachment: nor can a majority of this committee undertake to say that it will hereafter prove a safeguard to the reserved rights of the States.

Mindful, therefore, of the encroachments of power, of the momentous issues involved, and conscious of the rectitude of their own intentions, a majority of the committee, in discharge of a plain duty to themselves, to posterity and to truth of history, desire to spread before the country, in the most solemn form, the sense in which they and, as they believe, the people of the State through them, have accepted and ratified this amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

They therefore report back and recommend the adoption of the following joint resolution.

W. P. BYNUM,
For majority of the Committee.

Resolved, That by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, that we have accepted and ratified the said amendment, in the sense given to it by the Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States, to wit: that it does not enlarge the powers of Congress to legislate on the subject of freedmen within the States.

The report was filed, and on motion of Mr. Leitch of Robeson, ordered to be printed, and made the special order for Wednesday at 12 o'clock.

Mr. Ferebee from the committee on military affairs said, that the committee in obedience to a resolution introduced by the Sona or from Union [Mr. Covington] had called upon Gen. Ruger, commanding the Department of N. C, but waiting some time and not being able to see that officer, had left a copy of the resolution, with a request that an early answer should be given thereto. As yet none had been received. The committee had acted promptly in the matter, and they desired not to be thought to be neglectful of so important a matter, failing to make a report.

Mr. Wiggins from the committee on Finance reported favorably on the bill to abolish the office of Auditor of Public Accounts, and transferring the duties thereof to the Comptroller with an amendment giving him one clerk, with a salary of twelve hundred dollars.

Mr. Wilson from the Judiciary committee, reported back the bill to amend chapter 33d of the Revised Code (giving five Judges to the Supreme Court) recommending that it be post, oned until the adjourned session.

Mr. Jones of Columbus, introduced a resolution proposing to raise a joint committee to inquire into the ownership of the Piedmont Railroad, and to report the charter, if any, under which it was incorporated, the stockholders therein, with what funds it was built, how they were supplied with funds, and especially the property in said company which belonged to the Confederate States, and to individuals, and that further proposes, the committee have power to send for persons and papers, to examine witnesses on oath, if necessary, and to report to this or the adjourned session of the Legislature.

The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Latham introduced a bill providing for the holding of Courts in the county of Washington, which passed its first reading.

Mr. Bynum introduced a bill, which upon motion of Mr. Bogle, was referred to the committee on the Judiciary, for the relief of such persons as may suffer from the destruction of records and other documents.

Mr. Blount from the committee on Propositions and Grievances reported back, with a favorable recommendation, a bill exempting certain hands from working on the public roads.

The bill was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Latham introduced a bill for the relief of such persons as may suffer from the burning of the Court House and records of Washington county, which on motion made by Mr. Latham to suspend the rules, passed its several readings and was ordered to be engrossed.

A message was received from the House proposing to rescind the joint order providing for the administration of the oaths of office to the Governor elect when the votes are counted.

Mr. Wilson said that he had the honor of introducing the resolution, upon which the General Assembly had agreed to administer the oaths of office to the Governor elect. He did so through no disrespect to the Provisional Governor, but from a sense of duty. He believed it right and proper then and he thought so now. Mr. W. read from the ordinance of the Convention and the Constitution of the State, showing the necessity for such action now. His only intention was to provide against the chance of an interregnum in the office of Governor. The Legislature had, by joint vote, agreed to adjourn from Monday week to the first Monday in February. What if the Provisional Government should end during the recess? What would then be the condition of the State? It was proper we should provide against the contingency, for no one knew the hour or day at which the Provisional Governor might expire. It was proper and legitimate that we should place the Governor elect in the condition to enter immediately upon the discharge of the duties of his office when ever this should occur. We would be derelict should we fail.

Mr. Warren thought that the two Houses had acted hastily in passing the resolutions. We do not know officially who is elected, and there will be time enough when that is ascertained to appoint the time for the administration of the oaths of office.

Mr. Leitch of Robeson, concurred with the Senator from Mecklenburg (Mr. Wilson.) There could be no possible objection to the administration of the oaths. I have not proposed to inaugurate the Governor elect, but merely to prevent any difficulty in the way of his entering into the discharge of the duties of his office, should the Provisional government expire during the recess of the General Assembly.

The message was concurred in.

The hour having arrived to compare and count the votes for Governor, the Senators repaired into the Hall of the House of Commons for that purpose.—(See House proceedings.)

Upon the return to the Senate chamber Mr. Gash introduced a bill to amend an act passed at the session of 1848-49, to provide for a turnpike road from Salisbury, and the bill was placed on the calendar.

On motion of Mr. Bogle, the Senate adjourned until Monday morning eleven o'clock.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

SATURDAY, Dec. 9th, 1865.

House met at 10 o'clock A. M. according to adjournment. Prayer by Rev. Henry Hardie of the Presbyterian Church. The journals of yesterday were read and concurred in.

The committee on the Stay Law on the part of the House was announced as follows: Waugh, Farrow, Jones, McNair, and Whitley.

Mr. Manly from the Judiciary committee reported against a bill, giving exclusive jurisdiction of breaches of the peace to Superior Courts.

The same also reported and recommended its passage, resolution inquiring whether all civil Courts can be reestablished at once, and if so that Gov. Holden establish the Courts as soon as possible.

The same reported against a bill authorizing justices of the Peace to levy taxes for certain purposes.

The same reported a bill incorporating Durham Academy and recommended its passage with an amendment.

Mr. Hoke from the committee on Internal Improvements reported a bill for building a Railroad bridge over the Roanoke, and recommended its passage.

The same reported a bill in reference to the Western Turnpike Railroad, and that it be referred to the committee on Cherokee lands. Ordered to be referred.

The same reported back a bill for building a bridge across French Broad River and favored its passage with an amendment.

Mr. Smith of Hertford, from the committee on Finance, reported a bill for the relief of the holders of State Bonds in connection with the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad and recommending its passage.

Mr. Thompson moved a suspension of the rules that this bill might pass its second and third readings.

Mr. Gaines thought this an important bill and should not be acted on so hastily.

Mr. Cowan hoped the rules would be suspended that the bill might pass at once. The Legislature would adjourn on next Monday a week, and that it was highly important to all concerned, that this action be had before the 1st of January or the interest of the road and the interest of the State in the road would suffer. That these State bonds were authorized and provided for before the act of secession, although executed afterwards, as a matter of convenience and accident, and that the Convention in its ordinance of non asumption of the war debt, clearly did not embrace these bonds.

Mr. Faircloth of Wayne, did not object particularly to the passage of this bill, but wished to know more of the matter, and not act hastily on such important baisiness, and thought it necessary to have fuller information of the character of the Bonds and whether the conditions on which they were issued, transferred, &c., were complied with.

On the question whether to suspend the rules that the bill might pass, the Speaker announced yeas 43, nays 33. So the House refused to suspend.

On motion of Mr. Faircloth of Wayne, the bill was ordered to be printed, and to be the special order next Tuesday 11 o'clock.

Mr. Smith of Hertford, from Finance committee, a bill to provide for paying the State debt before the war. Recommends the Treasurer, after 1st of January, 1866, to issue Bonds of $100 $500 and $1,000, to the extent of three and a half millions—to run for 35 years at 6 per cent.

Mr. Smith of Hertford, moved a suspension of the rules that the bill might pass its second and third reading. On the question to suspend, ayes yeas 56, nays 19. Rules suspended and the bill passed its second and third reading.

The same reported against a bill authorizing the State to assume and pay U. S. land tax.

Mr. Waugh moved that the report be laid on the table. • Agreed to.

Mr. Waugh from the committee on Privae Bills, a resolution that a message be sent to the Senate to recind so much of the action of both Houses yesterday as refers to administering the oath of office to the Governor elect. Mr. Waugh thought the Legislature had put in above the word, in providing for an oath of office, installation and all that before it was ever known officially who was elected. After an interesting debate in which Messrs. McKay, Russell and Everett took part, the yeas and nays were called on Mr. Waugh's resolution to recind, and was as follows: Yeas 69, nays 24.

Mr. Hoke moved to reconsider the action of yesterday in appointing Trustees for the Insane Asylum, when Mr. Blackmer referred to the Revised Code on the subject, whereupon Mr. Hoke withdrew his motion.

A message from the Senate agreeing to elect Council of State next Monday.

A message from the Senate asks concurrence in an amendment to a bill providing relief and redress for the destruction of county records of Burke—embraces Sampson. Concurred in.

Message from Senate asks concurrence in the bill, providing for extension of the charter of the Bank of N. C.

Mr Jenkins of Warren, a resolution inquiring whether Larceny on 3rd offence should be punished with death. Referred to Judiciary Committee,

The same—a bill to make horse stealing punishable by death. Referred to same.—The same, a bill to punish with death any one attempting rape on white females. Referred to same.

Mr. Gidney, a resolution instructing the Committee on Sealing to fix value of produce, instead of specie.

Mr. Garland, a bill for the relief of people of Yancey on account of public papers and records destroyed and carried away by soldiers and otherwise.

A message from Senate with resolution to appoint a committee of three on part of the Senate, and five of the House, to inquire into the condition and ownership of the Piedmont Rail road.

Mr. Cameron, a memorial for the relief of Robert L. Ledbetter. Referred to the Judiciary committee.

The hour of 12 having arrived the Senate and House assembled in the Commons Hall, and proceeded to compare the recent vote for Governor in the several counties.

It appeared that the vote of Anson and Brunswick had not been returned to the Secretary of State, and the aggregate vote of the balence of the State is as follows:

For Jonathan Worth,	31 613
" W. W. Holden,	25.704
Worth's majority	5 939

Scattering 269 Whole vote 57 615.

Jonathan Worth was declared elected. After which the Senate retuined to its own chamber.

A message from the Senate concurred in resolution recinding the action of yesterday, providing for administering the oath of office to Governor Worth.

Mr Blythe, a bill providing for electing Clerks and Master in Equity by the people, and to elect Clerks of Superior and Count, Courts next August for a term of four years.

Mr. Waugh, a resolution that Jonathan Worth, Govenor elect, be installed and take his seat when the Provisional Government terminates. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Jenkins of Warren the House adjourned till next Monday at 10 o'clock A. M.

THE TOWER OF BABEL.

The Tower of Babel, on which late accounts announce that a cross was recently placed by a missionary, consists now of only two of the eight stories formerly erected. The remains are, however, visible from a very great distance. Each side of the quadrangular basis measures two hundred yards in length, and the bricks of which it is composed are of the purest white clay, with a very slight brownish tint, which in the sun assumes a wonderful rich hue, scarcely to be imitated by the painter. The bricks, before being baked, were covered with characters, traced most surely with the hand in a clear and regular style. The bitumen which served for cement was derived from a fountain which still exists near the Tower, and which flows with such abundance that it soon forms a stream, and would invade the neighboring river did not the natives from time to time set fire to the bitumen, and then wait quietly until the flames should cease for want of aliment.—Galignani.

Congressional Proceedings.

Washington, Dec. 12—Senate.—Mr. Davis, of Kentucky, offered a resolution, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee, declaring that whereas there is no longer rebellion in the limits of the United States, therefore the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus is restored in every State.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the House resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee of fifteen to inquire into the condition of the States which formed the so-called Confederacy, and report whether they, or any of them, are entitled to be represented in either House of Congress. The resolution was amended and passed—ayes, 33; nays, 11. The Senate then adjourned.

Mr. Stevens objected, saying that the State of Tennessee was not known to the House.

The Speaker overruled the objection.

Mr. Raymond said there were many facts connected with Tennessee, past and present, which commended its case to the early consideration of the House.

Several gentlemen wanted the Tennessee members at once admitted, lauding them for their patriotism during the war.

The House referred their credentials to the joint committe of fifteen on the condition of the late Confederate States—yeas, 125; nays 42.

A resolution was passed inviting the members elect from Tennessee to occupy seats in the Hall of Representatives. Pending the decision of their case, the House then adjourned.

General Robert Mitchell, of West Virginia has been appointed Governor of New Mexico.

PROVISIONAL ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

We learn that Gov. Holden has appointed Hon. Sion H. Rogers Provisional Attorney-General by the Legislature, to take effect at the expiration of the Provisional government.

We have heard it intimated that it is the intention of the Governor, if the Provisional government should be continued for any considerable length of time to start as far as may be in his power the whole machinery of the Courts of the State. In this event the Governor will most probably request the Supreme Court just elected by the Legislature to act as a Provisional Supreme Court.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

This report will be read with interest. Seldom has an executive document been looked for with more anxiety, or the effect of its premature discovery been guarded more conscientiously. We subjoin but a brief synopsis:

"The Secretary discusses the three great questions of the currency, the public debt and the revenue. He goes into a full exposition of the objections to the United States notes as a permanent currency, the chief of which he states to be the fact that the Government of the United States is one of limited and defined powers, and that the authority to issue notes as money is neither expressly given to Congress by the Constitution, nor fairly to be inferred, except as a measure of necessity in a great national emergency. He holds it to be the 'crowning glory of the Constitution that this great war has been waged and closed without the power of the Government being enlarged or its relations to the States being changed.'"

The Secretary, after very ably meeting the various objections to the reduction of the currency, recommends:

"First that Congress declare that the compound interest notes shall cease to be a legal-tender from the day of their maturity.

"Second. That the Secretary be authorized, in his discretion, to sell bonds of the United States, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent., and redeemable and payable at such periods as may be conductive to the interests of the Government, for the purpose of retiring not only compound interest notes, but the Unnited States notes.

"In reference to the debt, the Secretary believes that, if kept at home, it need not be oppressive, but that it is still a national burden, and the work of removing it should not be long postponed.

"The Secretary sees no way of removing it but by an increase of the national income over the expenditures. It should be our ambition not to bequeath it to our descendants.

"The first step should be to fund the maturing obligations. The next should be to provide for raising in the least odious manner the revenue necessary to pay the interest and a certain definite annual amount for the payment of the principal. Mr. McCulloch hopes that Congress will be decided and emphatic on this point.

"The debt on the 31st of October was $2,808 549,437,55; deducting moneys in the Treasury, it was $2,740,855,750. He estimates it on July 1st, 1866, at $3,000,-000,000. The annual interest, if funded at five-and-a-half per cent., would be $165,000,000, but if funded at five per cent. it would be $150,000,000.

"If $200,000,000 per annum should be applied to pay accruing interest and to reduce the principal funded at the high rate of five per cent., the debt would be paid in thirty-two years, or at five-and-a-half per cent., in a little over twenty-eight years.

The Secretary believes that no act of Congress would be more popular than one which should provide for such an extinguishment of debt.

"Upon the subject of internal revenue, the report recommends:

"First. That the collection of the internal revenue taxes which accrued before the establishment of revenue offices in the States recently in rebellion be indefinitely postponed.

"Second. That all sales of property in those States, under the direct tax law, be suspended until the States shall have an opportunity of assuming (as was done by the loyal States) the payment of the tax assessed upon them.

"Third. That all transactions in such States which may be invalid by the nonuse of stamps be legalized as far as it is in the power of Congress to legalize them.

"The Secretary regards the national banking system as one of the great compensations of the war, and gives some interesting statistics about its operations."

COWARDLY ATTEMPT TO MURDER A LADY.—Day before yesterday a genteely dressed woman called at the boarding house on the southeast corner of Sixth and Sycamore streets, and asked to see any married lady who boarded there, as she had something to impart, valuable to married ladies.

The servant thinking that the woman was a fortune teller or vender of some female nostrum, invited the woman to take a seat, and then apprized a young and newly married lady, who, with her husband, had recently taken up their abode in the house.

Curiosity impelled the lady to see the stranger, and, probably, sharpened her wits, as well as opened her eyes, for no sooner had she entered the room than she recognized in the strange woman a discarded lover, disguised in a female apparel, who had sworn to kill her if she ever married another than himself. With admirable tact, however, she disguised her feelings, and pretented to take an interest in the few hasty words addressed to her by the ruffian, until she saw him attemp to draw a revolver from the bosom of his dress, which, owing to the awkwardness in wearing, became entangled with the deadly weapon, and gave the alarmed and terror stricken lady time to escape. Finding his purpose discovered and foiled, the would-be assassin fled as though for life, which must evermore be poisoned by chagrin and the consciousness that he is amenable to outraged law for his cowardly and treacherous attempt to murder a helpless and inoffensive woman.

BLOW! BLOW THE TRUMPET &c!

For if you don't no one will do it for you. The Banner has the largest circulation and is beyond paradventure the—we were about to say the best paper in the State, but we will not say this, because everybody says so, and we are satisfied. So we will not be gassy or noisy. The friends and patrons which our paper has is a sufficient guarantee that our paper is not only acceptable, but meritorious. But as we have said before, we expect the Banner to succeed or fail according to its merits. Upon them it must rest. We cast it to the breeze and if its own strength is not sufficient to keep it up it must fall. It shall not be trammeled or loaded down by any clique or party; but in the cause of the people and the country, with no foreign masters or outsiders to dictate its policy, we are assured that it will triumph over faction and carry with it those who follow its lead into the glorious haven of peace and rest, political freedom and civil rights under the Constitution of our fathers. Until this desirable object shall have been obtained; until the Southern States shall have been readmitted into full fellowship and communion with their northern sisters; until we shall have re-obtained that civil liberty guaranteed to every citizen of the American Union by the Constitution, we shall know no party, except that which has for its ends the common good.

GENERAL B. F. BUTLER.

During the session of the Virginia Legislature, on Friday last, Mr. Hurst, of Norfolk County, offered the following, which was laid upon the table:—

WHEREAS, It is current ly reported and generally believed that the celebrated Hudibrastic General B. F. Buttler is about to take charge of this military department with powers extraordinary; therefore,

Resolved, That what ever money may remain in the State Treasury be immediately divided among the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers, and couriers be dispatched to the various counties requesting the people to secrete or bury their plate.

Negroes indicted for the penitentiary offense in Kentucky plead "I's a slave," and are set loose again on the community. So soon as discharged they become "I's free," and go to stealing again.

The Holly Springs Reporter says: We learn that a negro man violated the person of a white woman in Tippah Co last week, and then fled to escape justice. He was pursued and overhauled near the Marshal Institute in this county, and shot to death by the pursuing parties.

The Holly Springs, (Miss.) Reporter complains that some negro cavalry dashed into that place last week, pressed horses and saddles, abused and robbed the citizens, and played the devil generally. They were commanded by Lieutenant Ambrook. It is high time this doughty warrior had learned that the war is over.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday 2d January next.

Confidently relying upon the hearty suport which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains nor expense, in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the CHURCH, also, partake of this progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies, brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless, in the working out of her own destiny?

To aronse the CHURCH to the importance and necessity of WORK: of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us both the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all that we hope for on the earth.

To the People of the South!

THE OLD

"EXAMINER" REVIVED!!

The undersigned, having purchased its good will and subscription books, proposes to revive, at an early day, the old Richmond Examiner, of which the late John M. Daniel was editor-in-chief, and the undersigned his constant associate for the entire period of the war.

It is believed that the public will recognize an appropriate and practical idea in this enterprise.—Efforts to revive other papers in the South are announced, and it is certainly neither a visionary nor unworthy endeavour for the literary associates of a gallant spirit that now sleeps in the grave to essay honour to his memory and a service to the public by reviving the old Examiner newspaper, so long the ornament of Southern letters, an example at once of the scholarship and chivalry of Virginia; and perhaps the only school in the South of pure and classick English distinct from the models and redeemed from the innovations of Northern instructors.

The fame of the old Richmond Examiner reached to the most distant parts of the world. The paper was well known in Europe. It was pronounced by a distinguished Northern politician "the best exponent of the civilization of the South." It was a school of literary scholarship for the youth of the South; the glass of Southern chivalry; an example of independence, of courage, of iron spirit in newspaper literature, which its chief illustrated in his own noble and severe life, and defended more than once on the field of honor, when the undersigned stood with in the vindication of the freedom of the press.

Surely there are many people in the South who will unite in an effort to revive a newspaper which was an ornament to its literature and a school for its virtues. The task is an ambitions one. But the undersigned attempts it in no mean or flagging spirit. He has already undertaken to marshal a corps of the old writers for the Examiner; he will be able to reproduce its typographical features, and present to Southern readers a fac simile of their old acquaintance; and he fervently trusts and resolutely pledges every resource of intellect and will to breathe again in this form of material resurrection the same spirit of fearless criticism, chivalrous contest and unhesitating encounter with abuse that animated it of old.

The undersigned owns some pledges of affection in this enterprise. His relations with the late John M. Daniel was close, intimate and affectionate to the day of his death. And it will indeed be a labor and aspiration of love if he can produce some echo from the grave of lamented friendship and rekindle from the ashes of the past and the dead some of the fire that illuminated the familiar pages of our literature.

In the present uncertainty of political questions—the dissappointment of old issues and the imperfect development of the new—it would, of course, be impossible to state with precision the political career of the Examiner. But this may be said with safety; that it will use all its influence in restoring order, tranquility and prosperity to the people; and while aspiring to be brave and independent, it will avoid every scheme of faction and disorganization, devote itself to the works of conservatism, and sustain, at every risk, the present President of the United States as long as he fulfills those noble indications he has already given of planting again the rights of constitutional liberty in the South, setting his face against the Malignants of the North, and thus entitling himself to such common support of conservative men in all parts of the country as will secure the continuation of his wise and patriotic administration.

No pains or expense will be spared to make the Examiner the newspaper of the South. For every department of it the services of the most accomplished and active writers will be secured. Special correspondents will be posted in New York and Washington and other important centres of intelligence in the country. A former active editor of the old Examiner, Edward A. Pollard, will be employed as correspondent from Europe in which country he proposes to write a History of the War, and to form a familiar acquaintance with the politics of Europe, especially in connection with American questions and topicks. This correspondence will constitute a special feature of interest in our paper; it will enliven its columns from week to week with the productions of an animated pen; and it will afford our readers a singularly good opportunity to make themselves acquainted with cotemporary Europe, and to apprehend the growing interest of our foreign relations.

The undersigned was recently the editor of the Richmond Times, but in consequence of a disagreement with the part proprietor of that paper, he has been forced to leave it and appeal to the civil courts for his rights; and he now proposes to himself the nobler task of reviving a paper endeared to the South by many memories of the past, and associated with so much that is admirable in its heroick and literary name in history. He calls upon the old subscribers of the Examiner, from Virginia to Texas, to rally to its support, to renew their subscriptions, and to assist in the revival of a paper which has existed for three-quarters of a century, and which has ever been solicitous to honor truth and virtue, prompt to chastise abuses, and ambitions to defend and adorn the civilization and literature of the South.

Advertisements will be inserted on the same terms as published by the other Richmond papers.

The first number of the Examiner will contain a sketch of the life of the late John M. Daniel, whose name is historical in connection with the Virginia press, and than whom the annals of newspaper literature in America show few more extraordinary men—certainly no greater master of vigor and satire in composition. The first numbers will also contain a full and complete account of the evacuation of Richmond, with all the particulars of the surrender of the city, the entry of the troops, the great conflagration, &c., taken from the advance sheets of E. A. Polard's "Fourth Year of the War," now in press. This account will be found intensely interesting; and aside from this consideration, every one should secure and preserve these numbers, as they will be valuable hereafter as affording a true and faithful report of what the South has had hitherto but the imperfect narratives which have been written and published in the Northern press.

The old contributors and correspondents of the Examiner are particularly requested to communicate with the undersigned.

H. RIVES POLLARD,
Richmond, Va.

Wanted, an Agent in every town in Virginia and all the Southern States.

Also, immediately, twenty active and enterprising men to travel and canvass for the paper—a fine chance for men out of employment. H. R. P.

NOTICE.

MODEL SEWING MACHINE.

(From the New York Herald)

Prominent among the mechanical triumphs of this most ingenious age, common honesty compels us to notice the Empire Sewing Machine, commended as justly styled perfection itself. Useful as have been the various sewing machines, from time to time presented to the public, each one of them has been cursed with some radical defect, which detracts from general utility. Warned by the experience of his predecessors, the inventor of the Empire Machine has produced an instrument, combining all the advantages for which others are vaunted, and obviating every defect which can be attributed to them by the most fastidious critic.

The Empire Machine is a marvellous combination of simplicity, economy and perfect workmanship, being durable, free from liability to get out of order, noiseless, and easy of, operation. its mechanical contrivance is such as to secure stability, freedom from accident, and accuracy as to workmanship. By the use of the patented shuttle and straight needle, it makes a stitch, which can neither rip nor ravel, at the same time, it can operate perfectly upon every species of material from leather to cambric, with threads of cotton, linen or silk, from the finest to the coarsest number.

As the Empire Machine is gradually supplanting its more antique rivals, no one in want of a useful instrument of this description, be he or she tailor, coachmaker, dressmaker or seamstress, can do otherwise than secure one of these economical and inimitable machines, suited alike for family and manufacturing purposes. The office of the Empire Manufacturing Co. is at No. 536 Broadway, New York City, where they are now supplying these Empire Machines at prices far below the real value of the instrument.—New York Herald.
